Homecoming

While the Generals weathered a disappointing, hard-fought loss to Randolph Macon on Homecoming Saturday, the events of the weekend were more than enough to drown student sorrows over the defeat.

Beyond the usual band parties, dances, and tailgating, students and alumni were treated to an exciting and diverse concert at the Pavilion on Friday night. The Roots, an up-and-coming rap group, opened the show, followed by 70's folk-rock icons, The Band.

The beautiful Virginia fall provided a perfect backdrop for the reunion of old classmates, float parades, and the suspenseful Homecoming Queen declaration. To the delight of her represented International Club, junior Natalia Garcia was crowned.

Parents' Weekend

This three-day event is steeped in Washington and Lee traditions, from football to touring President Elrod's house to picnicking on the Front Lawn. Many parents had the pleasure of attending student plays and musical performances, or visiting the professors about whom they had heard more than they wanted to know.

Just about everyone enjoyed eating out in Lexington, touring the town and campus, and getting together again as a family while also meeting new people. Some especially brave parents even opted to test the waters - not to mention the grain - at fraternity parties.

Despite the cloudy day, the weather was perfect for football.

Parents line up to buy caps and gowns, graduation announcements, and class rings for their senior sons and daughters at the Jostens booth set up during this year's Parents' Weekend.

Chi Psi's John Tissue and Cooper Harris enjoy a cocktail party at their fraternity house with their fathers.

Tailgating is a must at any event held in the fall, whether it be Homecoming, Parents' Weekend, or a simple home football game.

Halloween

College really isn't that different from elementary school. From students to Dining Hall staff, just about everyone got caught up in the candy and costumery of Halloween. While some pondered trick-or-treating, others took a stab at carving pumpkins, many of which decorated the Colonnade and the dorms.

Of course, the highlight of the big night was the parties. Many of these were costume centered and left students to wake up November 1st dreading the day when they would finally be "too old" to dress for Halloween. Others woke up much later that day, vowing never again to drink unidentifiable orange liquids, especially when at Zollman's.

Robert Mead and Todd Denbo

Christmas Weekend

This was not only a time to make a run on Santa hats and antlers at Wal-Mart. Christmas Weekend also marked everyone's last chance to enjoy parties and bands before Finals Week. Ignoring that looming danger, students flocked to the fraternity houses and to the Pavilion concert by Washington and Lee favorites Curnutte and Maher.

Other highlights of the weekend were exchanging gifts and enjoying the light displays throughout Lexington - some more valuable for their traditional timelessness, others for comic relief.

Hunter Brackett and Kristye Koontz (Meredith '97)

Rush

In many ways, it was a monumental rush season at W&L. It was the first year of winter rush for the males. While fraternity members had mixed feeling about this new tradition, most freshmen were happy to have more time to get acquainted with the houses and their members. This spoke for itself in the 84% of freshman males who pledged, one of the highest rates in recent years. All of this in spite of one infamous New York Times Magazine feature...

Women's Rush enjoyed equal changes and equal successes. With the colonization of Kappa Delta, women now had to choose among five sororities. Kappa Delta greeted a strong pledge class, allowing the other sororities to maintain more manageable pledge class sizes.

Fancy Dress

The 90th annual occurence of the South's most renowned collegiat social event lived up to expectations for idealistic newcomers and seen-everything upperclassmen alike. Amidst an impressive array of circus-related decorations, students enjoyed both an orchestral swing band and a pop/rock band during an unforgettable and magical Friday night "Under the Big Top." The night before, students were treated to a performance by G. Love and Special Sauce and A Tribe Called Quest that filled the Pavilion to capacity. Yet again, the splendor of the evening made the tuxedos and gowns well worth their cost.

Lenfest

The 1996-1997 season was perhaps the most exciting in the short history of W&L's state-of-the-art Lenfest Performing Arts Center. Choral, operatic, and instrumental performances abounded all season, including a diverse series of concerts by renowned international bands such as the London Chamber Orchestra and a Danish brass band. Of course, students' own contributions to W&L cultural life were among the most valuable. The University Symphony and all of W&L's esteemed a capella choruses proved to be wildly popular at all of their performances. Some of the most entertaining and successful shows were the theatrical events, which included productions of one-act plays, the musical Into the Woods, and the plays Jeffrey and The Importance of Being Earnest. From students to European professional performers, a wide range of talent was on display at Lenfest each week.

T.W. Leshner in Into the Woods.

Zach Hanks and Will Haase act in the one-act play Zoo Story, directed by Dan Tipton.

Andrew Higgs and Maria Hardin in The Rainmaker.

Sam Levine and Denis Riva perform Jeffrey.

Brittany Ahlstrom and Jon Bartlett in Into the Woods.

Dan Tipton, Sam Levine, Sarah Flournoy, Peter Duvall, Jason Miller, Rob Mish, and Wes Armstrong in Jeffrey.

Vacations

Students took advantage of the unique W&L schedule to seek out opportunities for short vacations during the year. Winter Break provided the opportunity for students to engage in activities as diverse as ocean cruises and skiing. Over Fall Reading Days, those not frantically engaged in studying made time to make weekend trips to exciting nearby places such as Washington or to visit friends at other colleges. Spring Break and Washington Holiday also afforded students the chance to visit many exciting destinations. From trips to exotic locales to short visits to friends and relatives, W&L students covered the country and the world over breaks but were always pleased to return once again to the friendly confines of campus.

Speakers

While the famous politicians who came for the 1996 Mock Convention were not present this time around, W&L students still enjoyed an exciting lineup of speakers this year. In one of the biggest speaking events at W&L, the "Hollywood Comes to Lexington" week saw film critic Michael Medved and director Spike Lee draw huge crowds. A series of distinguished authors and professors shared their thoughts on current social and political issues with students at functions throughout the year. Yet again, there was no shortage of lecture opportunities for interested students and faculty members.

Out and About

From the fraternities to the quads to Lexington restaurants, students had many opportunities to reward themselves for a week of hard work with some well-deserved relaxation. Of course, the fraternity band parties were the highlight of most people's Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday nights, as performers such as Doug Clark and the Hit Nuts and Doxy's Kitchen proved as popular as ever, as did the ample supply of beer. But parties could be found in other locations as well, places as exotic as a pub in Charlottesville or as simple as a movie night in a dorm room. Sunny afternoons provided the perfect opportunity for football or ultimate frisbee in the quad or on the front lawn while a free weekend offered the chance for a road trip.

Spring Term

While the one or two classes that students took over spring term could be academically gruelling, the six-week period at the end of the year served mostly as a reward for a year of hard work. A more relaxed academic schedule and the inviting weather gave everyone the chance to take weekend road trips, enjoy yet more parties, spend an afternoon at Goshen or Foxfield, or just spend more time relaxing with friends. Other spring term perks, such as outdoor classes and the pristine green of the front lawn, only added to the students' appreciation of the beauty and tranquility of campus.

Whether at Zollman's or the President's house, W&L Seniors know how to party. Both offer one last opportunity to spend time with friends and faculty before entering "the real world." And of course, one last opportunity to do something you swear you'll never do again.... For seniors, the formal cocktail party on campus and the bash out at Zollman's are something to look forward to.

Four years (of all-nighters, study breaks, FD and Christmas Weekends, conversations with the voice mail lady, and crises) after entering Washington and Lee, the 367 graduating seniors prepare to leave Lexington. What seems like what should have lasted much longer than it did is over. The Baccalaureate and Commencement ceremonies are two last W&L traditions the Class of 1997 participates in.

In the News...

ON THE HOME FRONT

*Hillary Rodham Clinton shied away from confrontation. The 48-year old First Lady championed the massive health-care reform plan but it never became law. Nevertheless, Mrs. Clinton pushed ahead and became increasingly involved in children's issues. Incidentally, Chelsea Clinton, the only child of President and Mrs. Clinton opted to live on the west coast for a while-- attending Stanford University in California.

*The United States vs. Timothy J. Mc Veigh concluded in June. McVeigh was found guilty of all eleven charges pressed by the Federal Government over the Oklahoma City bombing in April, 1995. McVeigh still faces charges from the state of Oklahoma.

IDS GET A KICK

*Another public trial, and the focus of many Americans' attention-- the civil trial of OJ Simpson-- concluded with Simpson being found guilty of wrongful death of his ex-wife, Nicole Brown Simpson and her friend, Ronald Goldman. Simpson was ordered to pay $33 million in damages, and as predicted, promptly declared bankruptcy.

*__Bob Dole__ retired from his seat in the Senate to devote all of his time to his campaign for the presidency with running mate Jack Kemp. Unfortunately, Dole is now out of a job-- incumbents President Bill Clinton and Vice President Al Gore left the November elections with a landslide victory over Dole and Kemp.

*Months after TWA Flight 800 exploded in midair in the summer of 1996, investigators were still searching for a cause. The Boeing 747 jumbo jet plunged into the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of Long Island, NY, just minutes after taking off from Kennedy Airport for Paris, France. All 230 people on board were killed.

SPORTS

*Olympic gold medal winner Michael Johnson has what track coaches call speed endurance-- the ability to carry top speed. He proved he had endurance-plus. Johnson won an unprecedented double win, both the 200 and 400 meter races, in the Summer Olympics in Atlanta.

*The seven members of the U.S. Women's gymnastic team won the unlikeliest of gold medals in the unlikeliest of fashions. Team member, Kerri Strug made the clinching vault on a bad ankle, and became an Olympic heroine the instant she landed. Her coach, Bela Karolyi, carried her to the stand to be awarded the gold medal with her team mates.

*Also at the Olympics in Atlanta, a pipe bomb packed with nails exploded in the crowded Centennial Olympic Park. More than 100 people were injured and two were killed.

MUSIC

*The Fugees hit the charts with their best selling album, "The Score" and with a remake of Roberta Flack's "Killing Me Softly."

Tracy Chapman was back on the charts with "New Beginning," her new album. Says one critic, "One thing Tracy Chapman has inevitably gained over the years is polish."

Jewel's debut album, "Pieces of You," went platinum. Her crystalline voice and bittersweet folk songs have brought her from living off of peanut butter sandwiches and carrots to living in the limelight.

Shania Twain released "Woman in Me" which stayed on the Billboard top 200 for more than a year and eventually went platinum.

* Who can forget (try as you might) the Macarena? The song hit all charts-- from Latin to Pop-- and enlivened dance floors all over the world. First released in Spain three years ago, the dance was a huge hit and as it travelled, different variations of its basic moves have been added.

HONG KONG
1897-1997
HONG KONG
1997

ON ANOTHER FRONT

Boris Yetltsin was re-elected President of Russia and pledged to continue the reforms he began five years ago. However, the 65-year-old president began immediately to show the signs of severe heart problems. It was announced that he had at least two heart attacks in the past two years and open-heart surgery was considered the only solution to his life threatening disease.

Benjamin Netanyahu, the 47-year-old leader of the Lukid political party was eleced Prime Minister of Israel. He declared that his government would honor the existing agreements on peace and security issues and would continue to negotiate toward a final peace agreement in the Middle East

Hong Kong prepared for the July 1, 1997 switch from British to Chinese control. After 100 years of British rule, Bristish administration and jurisdiction over Hong Kong will end and it will become a Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China.

*For the first time since the Gulf War, the American miliatry took action against Iraq and its leader Saddam Hussein. Iraq sent its troops into the Kurdish enclave in northern Iraq and in retaliation, the United States launched air attacks against Hussein's southern air defenses. Hussein has abused his people sine the ruling Baath party assumed power nearly 30 years ago. And since the end of the Gulf War, he has continued to assassinate his political enemies.

TO: Members of the Washington and Lee Student Body

FROM: John W. Elrod

The four years spent at Washington and Lee are as fleeting as any period in your life. It seems that no sooner have you adjusted to the excitement of the opening months of your freshman year than thoughts are upon you three years later about what is to follow graduation in the spring. Life races by in these four years because, in large measure, they are filled with novel and exciting experiences: academic challenges, social events, athletic competition, travel abroad, an array of residential experiences ranging from Graham-Lees to a farm house in the county, responsibilities in student government and other student organizations, service projects, making friends to last a lifetime, etc. Washington and Lee is all this and at another level it is growing up and discovering yourself, the person you are to be for a lifetime. No wonder we never forget these years.

The Calyx preserves these memories. As you join the rank of 19,000 alumni and alumnae, and as the decades begin to pass, these memories will be forever embroidered upon the pages of this book. When you look through it years from now in solitude or with old friends and family, it will sharpen your happy memories of life on this exquisite campus, in Lexington and the county, and all the many and varied experiences which together constitute the W&L experience.

Enjoy this book over the years, and let it be a constant reminder of the glories of your life at Washington and Lee.

Sincerely,

John W. Elrod

Despite graduating 22 seniors and 12 starters of last years squad the Generals finished the year winning four of their last five games to end up with an overall record of 5-5. The team did have a few problems starting the season by going 1-4, but they rebounded by beating Hampden-Sydney, Sewanee, Bridgewater and Swarthmore to close out the season. Senior quarterback Brooks Fischer remained not only a stand out player on the team but also in the conference, eventually being named to the second team All-ODAC. He also hold three W&L records: completions (466), yards passing (4,893), an touchdown passes (33). Other outstanding players include junio John Benazzi who was named first team All-ODAC. With injure to key defensive players, seniors Peyton Williams, Travis Wisdom McGuire Boyd and Jack Boyd took the lead. The Boyd brothers bot earned second team All-ODAC honors.

VOLLEYBALL

After winning the ODAC championship last year, the Generals had to ask themselves how good could they be this year? They answered that question by finishing the season 29-4 and being ranked as high as fifth in the NCAA Division III South region rankings. On their way to this impressive finish, the Generals beat Bridgewater for the first time in 14 tries. They suffered their first loss of the season to Savannah College of Art and Design after starting the season with eight straight wins. The Bridgewater victory started the team on a school record 16-match win streak. Leading the team, senior Virginia Yoerg set school records for kills (378) and blocks (189), and was named to the first team All-ODAC. Also named to first team All-ODAC was Hilary Martin who had 242 kills, 282 digs, and 77 blocks. Other team leaders included juniors Ali Beard and Holly Thomsen, sophomore Megan Snodgrass, and freshman Nancy Reinhart.

Beginning the season with two top ten finishes, the Generals looked like they had a chance a repeating last year' great season. With a preseason ranking of 25th the tea could not get it together to defend their ODAC and NCA Division III championships. Still they found enough strengt to win the second consecutive Virginia state championship beating Mary Washington by only eight points. The tea was lead by juniors Will Olson, Jason Callen, Talyor Shult and sophomore Steve Guenther. All of them placed in th top ten and earned all-state honors. In the NCAA Divisio II region match Callen ran in eighth place and Olson place 16th. Both earned all-region honors for their efforts. Wit the key players being all underclassmen the team is lookin forward to reclaiming their lost titles next season.

WOMEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

Stronger and deeper than last year's squad, the cross country team was ready to reclaim their lost ODAC title of last year. The season began well with a pair of ninth place finishes at Lebanon Valley and the Dickinson Open. The Generals next came in second to Mary Washington in the Virginia Division II-III championships. Sophomore Natasha Dorofeeva and junior Carson Flowers were the second and third place finishers in this race. Also senior Nat Messmore came in ninth to earn all-state honors. At the ODAC championships, Flowers won the 5,000 meter race to take home Runner of the Year honors. This great effort resulted in a team victory also. Both Messmore and sophomore Lisa Brennan ran the best races of their careers to earn all-ODAC honors. The Generals closed the season with a sixth place finish at the NCAA Division III South Regionals.

WRESTLING

With a 4-3 record, the Generals accumulated a winning record for the first time in a decade. This deep team had almost two wrestlers competing in every weight class. W&L's first win came through a crushing defeat of Haverford 60-0. Captain Adam Branson had his best season since his freshman year; going 8-2 in the 134-pound weight class. Also serving as captain, T.J. Griffin accumulated a 5-7 record. He also was the runner-up in the 167 pound weight class at the state championship. The best match records on the team this year were by freshman though. Wrestling at the 177 pounds weight class, Alex McManimen finished with a 15-5 individual record and also had a team high six pins. Chad Casto went 15-9 and also contributed greatly in tournaments. He came in third place at the LebanonValley Invitational. Going 9-10, John Sening pinned his opponent in the Swarthmore match to secure the winning season.

WATER POLO

By playing mainly Division I schools this season, the Generals' scores do not portray their actual talent. When Division III championships came around, the team was ready. They made it to the championship game but lost to Johns Hopkins 13-10. After meeting JHU twice during the season the team still could not defeat them. Senior co-captains James Silberstein and Peter Sorensen along with senior Nathan Hottle led the team this season. Sorensen accumulated the most points on the team with 77 and also led the team in steals with 52. Silberstein had the most goals with 52. Hottle contributed 40 steals and a third best 27 goals. With freshmen Ryan Nobel and Steven Starnes as the only two goal tenders the team lacked experience in the net. Both saw many minutes and began to really develop by the end of the season.

MEN'S TRACK

The men's track season was highlighted by Juior Jason Calle breaking the school record in the 5,000 meter run and becomin the first General to qualify for the NCAA championships sinc 1990. Callen ran a time of 14:50.47 at the Duke Invitational o April 11 to breakAngus McBryde's 14 year old school mark in th 5,000 and Callen went on to finish 11th at the NCAAmeet in Ma W&L finished the season with a third place finish at the ODA championships, led by senior Sandy Hooper. Hooper was double-winner, taking home top honors in the 800 and 1,50 meter runs. Callen won the 5,000 at the ODAC meet and was runner-up finisher in the 1,500 behind Hooper as W&L dom nated the distance events. The only other W&L victory came i the shot put as Omar Moneim threw a career best 47-1/4 to bea his nearest competitor by nearly six feet.

The Generals were edged by Roanoke by nine points for the ODAC title at the outdoor championships in late April. W&L had also finished a close second to the Maroons at the ODAC indoors in February. Sophomore Natasha Dorofeeva led the Generals at the outdoor championships, winning the 800 in a school and conference record time of 2:21.02. Dorofeeva also finished second in the 3,000 meter run behind senior Nat Messmore who completed her sweep of the even at the indoor and outdoor championships. A surprise winner for the Generals was freshman Meredith Mlynar in the javelin. W&L also picked up a victory from the 4x400 relay team of Jill Kosch, Hollis Leddy, Heather Acuff and Dorofeeva in a school and conference record time of 4:12.12.

BASEBALL

The Generals went into the final weekend of the season with a chance to finish as high as second in the Old Dominion Athletic Conference, but a pair of doubleheader losses knocked them out of playoff contention. Still, a young Generals squad went 11-18, marking the first time since the 1920s that W&L had double digit victories in back to back seasons. Freshman Christian Batcheller led a potent offensive lineup by setting school records for batting average (.490), home runs (9), RBI (45), hits (51) and runs scored. Batcheller was named first team All-ODAC in the outfield and became just the second player in school history to earn first team all-region honors. The Generals hit .332 as a team, averaging nearlyeight runs per game, and slugged a school record 28 home runs. In addition to Batcheller, six other W&L players hit over .300-- Patrick Hall, Russell Wrenn, CHris Stakem, Mike Nolan, E.J. Murphy and Tucker Bixby. Sophomore Bob Weston led the pitching staff with a 6-4 record and 70 strikeouts in 67 innings.

Beta Theta Pi

Once again, the brothers of Beta Theta Pi outdid themselves by pushing the envelopes of fratty behavior and spending the majority of the year on super secret, quadruple, "this time we mean it" probation. We tested the limits of the maximum occupancy of the B-lodge by packing the house with dragon lovers at the first ever MEGA mixer with Phi Kap, Theta, and Kappa.

The year's highlights, and our last party for that matter, was the world renowned Beta Christmas Weekend. Pika was kind enough to lend us their microwave, and their tree to cook up a great feast and decorate the B-lodge. Everyone got carried away with the Christmas spirit. Holbrook said "yea", Crawford said "Ba", Johnson landed a right hook, and by the time Mom Haley dug herself out of the protective barricades provided by Brother TeStrake, we woke up on social probation for the rest of the year. Undaunted by the fact we were in a social coma for the rest of the year, the Dragons went to work on rush. On the strength of Christmas weekend, we pulled in 14 absolute rockstars.

To ease the boredom of our endless social probation, the MVP society was formed. This organization, shrouded in mystery and driven by one sacred purpose, took the campus by storm.

One ray of sunshine in the B's life was the beginning of the LAX season. Half the house was captained on the lax field by Brothers McLaughlin and Johnson. The dragons would like to give thanks to our departing nine seniors, the stories will last a lifetime. We will miss Shane's mastery of the language, Johnson's left hook, Stiehl's verbal headlock, Gaunt's modesty, TeStrake's domestic tranquility, Casillo's drunken wanna-be meatheadness, Gubner's size, Bauer's nature boy charisma, and Crawford, well, what can you say about Crawford?

The year was overshadowed by the loss of Brother John "Jack" Bowden '00. He was an outstanding individual who was liked by all. He will be missed.

After a good rush last year, this was the year we were supposed to slack off as usual and not do anything. We didn't do anything of course, but we still managed to con 16 guys into the Lodge this year, including one of the worst drunks ever, The Redge, and Michael Corleone's brother, Fredo.

Kids in space. Our functions continued to be half-assed as usual, but under the capable guidance of Lathrop "Meow-Meow" Nelson, it turned out to be a good year, even though we missed a year without seeing Rick Hill sprawled unconscious across the floor of the bathroom at 6 in the morning, a bottle of mini-thins just out of his reach.

Fighting Gravity came by for Homecoming, and Duane was here for Late Night all year, even if his music started getting a liiiiiitle sketchy towards the end. Reed finally got his mixer this year, with Chi-O and The Convertibles out on the front lawn in zero-degree weather. "Won't someone please think of the children?!"

Rock-Bone, The Beast, and Cheetos all made appearances this year, and even appeared to have a good time. As long as someone taps Rockbone on the shoulder and hands him a beer, he's happy. Keep the stall door open for Cheetos and HE'S happy. Everyone was Happy, especially Sacha, not that his underground life finally began to be exposed.

We did a lot of stupid stuff this year. That's good. Beirut became the Lodge sport, the Spaniard managed to stick his foot in his mouth several times this year, Gentle Ben never stopped drinking, The Fat Kid's behavior became more bizarre as graduation approached, and Lathrop became embroiled in the Lodge check-book scandal. "Anyone wanna go to the Staircase? I'm not the one who's gonna pay!"

The Chi Psi Circus finally became a reality. We had clowns on the lawn, freaks, and not all of them were dressed up. It was a good time had by all, but FD pales in comparison to the stunning appearance of Beef Boras during Alumni Weekend. It could have been a let down, but it wasn't. While most were downstairs dancing to a band that was Right On, a few were upstairs watching the Beef turn water into bourbon. We can only wait for the Second Coming.

Good-bye to the largest class in Lodge history. Some have jobs, some don't. Some launched their kids into space, and some didn't. All hail children.

Kappa Alpha

Since the founding of the Alpha Chapter of Kappa Alpha in 1865, never has the Order done so much with so little (money). Alpha once again was instrumental in making W&L a place worth attending. Throughout the year, we were a sight worth seeing as we caught the attention of fellow greeks, administrators, perspectives, police, and even the occasional coed. Dean Buddy Atkins put it best in saying, "I don't hate Kappa Alpha, but you guys are too damn rowdy and too damn cocky. You all need to handle your alcohol better and stop bullying other fraternities. KA is ... good ... fraternity."

Alpha excelled in '96-'97 under the leadership of President Chad Shuford and his cabinet, Hickson and Thomas. Shuford's laissez-faire approach to the Presidency proved successful as he worked the system in times of need managing to keep the Alpha off probation throughout the year. Unfortunately, the excessive fining that the IFC rained upon us could not be avoided in part due to our inability to handle alcohol.

However the fines did not deter us from participating in every aspect of W&L life. Whether it was on the athletic fields, in the classroom, in the community, in front of IFC Judicial Committee, or in Buddy's office, the Order always left its mark.

Despite our strong and deep influence throughout the W&L community, Alpha remains misunderstood by outsiders and it became apparent why this year. As the school lets in more spazzes and monkeyboys, there are fewer people with which we can socialize. During Rush, we were afraid that this sad fact might hurt our string of blue chip pledge classes. However this was not the case as we acquired 20 guys and 2 rush violations.

Socially, Alpha exceeded all expectations, especially those of the budget. However thanks to the power of assessment which reared its ugly head twice during the year, we were able to continue our dominance of the W&L social scene. Fall term was highlighted with Beach Party (and the temporary disappearance of J-Day to the slide) and Christmas Weekend (911 our portrait has been kidnaped). Winter term witnessed Shitkicker's Ball, the Bahamas/Keyes trip, and the first mixers in Alpha's distinguished history. The year concluded in the Spring with plenty of Schaefball and the Old South Ball in Charleston, or rather Zollman's. While we mourn the departure of our seniors, no one will ever forget the G.T.P. Brothers.

Kappa Sigma

Kappa Sigma once again emerged victorious in the '96-'97 school year. After an enthusiastic rush--"STRIPPER'S HERE!!"--, our efforts were stymied by the photojournalism of our most beloved of alumni. With the love of the hill and nationals on our side, we picked up six solid freshman, Amidst the parties with our house band, The Convertibles--No S!, we also featured Agents of Good Roots and several of Lexington's recently reformed pharmaceutical experts. With a second place finish in IM's, the newly elected president of the IFC, a Phi Beta Kappa, ODK, editors of the Political Review and the Arete, the president and seven vice-presidents of the Leyburn Society (resume fillers, anyone?), members of the board of Habitat for Humanity, as well as members of the cross-country, football, tennis, track, wrestling, golf and rugby teams, the Mu chapter maintained its high level of campus involvement. Sadly, we said good-bye to the last class to really earn our brotherhood, at least according to the New York Times. Prepare to enter Haden's World, Tons, who didn't know that comforters were flammable, leaves us after 15 glorious years of college; Warthy who uncharacteristically rose to the occasion, repeatedly in Cancun; Ret Bo- where's Gi Gi's scrunchy?; Zags who swears she was cute last night and not really Sarge's date; Sonic-the scourge of lesbians everywhere; Robese who got dirty and swam from the chickens; Flo-bee who kissed her on the cheek; Pimpo who takes them double-wide; and Fox who was loud.

Despite the de-activation of PDT spiritual leader Earl "How you like them apples, Cole?" Gregory, the 1996-1997 fightin' Phis once again showed the campus the way frats were meant to be. Jimmy "BAM!" Read avenged yesteryear's mishap with Sneaky by chalking up his first career win, bringing his record to 1-7 (win by K.O.). Hearty kudos go to Brother T. Wisdom on his finest year, winning the "I Can't Believe These Chicks Aren't Catching On!" Award. Hoyt Edwin Chastain followed suit, snaring the "My Turn!" Cup. Brother Fischer wooed liberal freshman girls with his inventive "they should be sent to the moon" theory. Sandy "the shadow" Hooper maintained quota as E.C. President, while keeping an extra special eye on the freshmen. Brother Villere managed to prove that professors really don't fail seniors, while Battlemaster Gardner finally discovered Surfer Boy Connell in the closet. Smilin' Dick Ritchey took the baton from the former PDT President Billy Guice in brilliant form. Dawson, incapable of maintaining standards of decency without Gary's mellowing influence, created quite a stir in Gaines with Reece Wilson. Our new recruits performed admirably, making sure everyone on the Hill was up to speed with occurrences at the house. As always, Brother Wick proved to know "a lot about bands."

Once again, the Phis dominated athletic fields. Phi football payers, whose names you can see on the opposite page, Cryotined their way to success. As planned, President Fischer broke every W&L quarterback record. Phis also dominated the soccer, hockey, wrestling, baseball, and track teams. Although we were once again unable to snare any water polo or volleyball players, Brother Grumbine paddled his way to fame.

As a side note, the Phis would like to thank Erin Ruane for all her support, and all other ladies (you know who you are) who helped to make the '96-'97 school year our best (statistically) ever.

Finally, Phi Delt would like to bid a humble farewell to our graduates, the fightin'est Phis we ever saw.

The 1996-1997 school year was another success for the first house established at W&L. The pseudo-winter rush bankrupted the house and produced fifteen pledges. Though initially barely worth the monetary trade-off, the group quickly began to bond and pay dues. Phi Psi brothers again represented the house in all facets of campus life. Jimmy "tough guy" Slams and Chris ba-ba-Baldwin were defenders of justice on the EC. The Phi Psi stranglehold was also felt courtesy of class officers and representatives of Kathekon, IFC, SCC, SAB, and the ACLU. Athletically we were not to be denied as Phi Psi won the overall I.M. title and had varsity athletes on the football, wrestling, track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, basketball, and baseball teams.

Several house traditions continued this year. Pledge Redd met Death face to face and thus far seems pretty healthy. The sophomore class maintained our strong relationship with B&G while shocking brothers with their questionable tendencies. Kimmel learned to communicate with other humans as Silas attempted to communicate with Hale-Bopp. As for the juniors, Big Time kept lifting, Frosty started pumping, and McKinley took up vehicular deer hunting.

Winter formal meant much road cheese and the G-funkering of the Willson Walker bathroom. The annual Senior Night at the Palms ended in a brawl and a few wet pledges. What FD weekend lacked in a noise permit, it made up for in female alternative lifestyles. The seniors left their mark on Myrtle Beach and Mexican cops left their mark on Thrall. The Annex handled St. Patty's Day, rivalled only by Hobes for Beirut supremacy at weekly performances by the Slacks. Vards is located at Route 7, Box 134. Dutch single-handedly held down the Raisin subsisting entirely on cheese sticks, Dynan trashed the Riverhouse, and McKinley moved between the Mill and Gaines.

Sadly, we must bid farewell to eleven seniors. Good luck and Amici to Fritz "ball and chain" Berckmueller, Todd "ta-dow" Denbo, Bradley "philap" Philipson, John "g-funk" Garvey, Lin "I'm the Dutchman with the bitchin' tan" Fitzenhagen, Ben "burner" Swinburne, Jim "where's Dalton?" Wilson, Robert "boy in the bubble" Mead, J.P. "wanna' split a sixer?" Josephson, Jon "grundle" Bartlett, and Joe Ruwe(son).

The 1997-1997 school year proved to be no change for the brothers of the Skull as we continued to set the social, athletic, and academic standard at W&L. With visits from rock and roll, blues, funk, and motown sensations such as Gran Torino, Right On, The Mailmen (they delivered!), Chip's dad's band -- The Blues Gems, and Doug Clark and the Hot Nuts, the Skulls, led by Crazy Legs Livingston, Moonwalk Burns, Hip Hop Guggenheimer and Robb "Merengue" Greenfield were given the chance to display the dance moves that have made us famous campus-wide (especially with the ladies!). Athletically, Skull dominance was seen on the soccer, football, and rugby fields in the fall, extended to the swimming venue in the winter and on the lacrosse field in the spring. On top of the traditional powerhouse performances in intramurals, the Phi Kaps also saw seven juniors elected to captain positions for the '97-'98 athletic seasons.

Skullastically, we Phi Kaps remained geniuses in our own minds, even if we have not received proper recognition for our academic exploits from those people that give out the grades. The freshman class, twenty strong, has a big void to fill with the graduation of sixteen stellar senior Skulls--Jake Blair, McGuire "Captain Skull" Boyd, Chris Casazza, Bryan "Waaaps" Depew, Bill Gill, Peder Hagberg, Ande Jenkins, Patsy Madden, Davis Reed, George Vogel, Peyton Williams, Rock Rowan, Tommy Rueger, Billy Wright, Ed Zelezen, and Benjamin "Alpha" Rippeon.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Once Again, "PiKA's gonna be on top."
- Ron Jeremy

The 96/97 season was another gala season for the Fighting Pricks. With Bobby Mayhew and Kritser on the D.L. and the acquisition of former Welterweight Champ Brother Scott Rhodes, the Pikes returned to full strength. Having problems dealing with people taller than him and his pituitary gland acting up, Lil' Peter Scrambler went to live among the Spaniards as he "worked out some personal things."

This year's rush debited a net gain of 17 rapscallions and credited the Viper account in the amount of one. Unfortunately next year's rush may only produce the bid of a "solid band from Boston." The Annual PiKA/ Kappa mixer went off without a hitch. X Games Master Matthew Patrick is quoted as saying, "The topless jaunt to Stop-In was a complete success as was the toddler-napping contest, Yellow Brick Road will never be the same." The only comments attributed to Kappa were the words, "punt, chaffe, random, sketchy, and Draconian." Kappa President Carmen Elektra broke her clavicle in the Fiery Vienna Sausage eating contest, and responded "Were it not for my injury, I would've crushed the Chigger. The Chi O's can have their derby days, I am a PiKA gal." Invitations to next year's event have already been sent, so quit kissing our ass!

John Bayer, the loud and obnoxious Texan from Pittsburgh, successfully fought a foiled recall attempt following the house elections held during the Blizzard of '84. Proving his worth to the Fraternity, Bayer paid his dues and was instrumental in the hostage rescue in Lima. Also, New Head of the Pilitburo Andrew Curry has expressed his interest in turning Reid hall into "Lake PiKA: Summer Camp for Troubled Youth." Unfortunately Brother Williams Jenning Bryan was defeated in his 69th attempt to put PiKA back on silver standard.

Infamous Pi Kap brother Turner Field was spotted across campus and around the world, sharing his happy outlook and special diet with those in need. Also in Sports News, Beaupain "The Wily Frenchman" launched a new line of Eau d'Toilette and Footcare products under the name of "Mediocrity." A devastating rumor swept the campus this year that an unnamed PiKA brother crashed three cars, joined STS and was forced to leave school, that fortunately did NOT happen.

Sports recap: The Generals were led on the Bench by many illustrious fighting pricks. The Dump led the tennis team in fumble recoveries and missed punts while Frumpy Troll screamed obscenities from under the footbridge. Two Sport Superstar "Playboy Buddy Brackett" led the biathlon team as senior year octa captain but was defeated in the quest to find a warm napping spot on the engine of Perlow's car by a dead Lexington Feline, this left Hunter to sleep in the couches. Pledge Reconnaissance led to the apprehension of the Unabomber and the firing of Bryant Gumbell. Grundel as usual quarterbacked the basketball team, and posted a .46 ERA. An anonymous Fighting Prick "Robbie Heyer" kicked off his modeling career by appearing in a mature magazine piece "Gina, Tina, and Robbie, Picnic Bench Pals." Al "no nickname" Dominick hit a home run in his first at bat, pinch ran for the fighting cross country team, and consistently shot 4 over par on the B.V. mini putt course. Moile and Skeletor quit the shadow boxing fencing teams to pursue their life long dream of becoming Solid Gold dancers. And a special shout to Alvin Townley, the first ever dorm counselor to host "The Grind."

In a speculative financial move engineered by DJ classic, the fighting pricks performed a leveraged buyout of North Face, so keep in mind all future purchases will only contribute to our coiffures. In a last minute decision, Nike officials shot down the "I am Tim Jenkins, I am Tim Jenkins" ad campaign and replaced Tim with an unknown golfer. Unfortunately in a retaliatory event Abercrombie & Fitch have dropped their line of controversial Tom Cox grippies and the ad campaign featuring F. Ted Wells.

All Hail PiKA The Glorious Regime!

Pi Kappa Phi

The 1996-97 school year was another fruitful one for the brothers of Rho chapter. Bill Sigler passed along his presidential torch to Kingsley Chukwu. We successfully completed the first winter rush, initiating 15 new "pledges" and showing them the ropes.

We partied like rock stars fall term. Our annual Pimps and Prostitutes party saw brothers get their swerve on with numerous scantily clad females from one of our favorite sororities. Christmas Weekend saw brother Dempsey decorate "himself" like a x-mas tree (once again!) and FD...who remembers? Pat McGee Band, R&B All Stars, and Big Mamma Boogie Band were there just in case anyone was still standing.

Winter term ended with the loss of two of our most distinguished brothers. Aaron Howell left school to pursue an internship taste testing for Finesse shampoo. William Dempsey departed after being banned from three states along the East Coast and fathering three small wild boars.

Spring term kicked off with alumni weekend and special appearances by Sir Mix a Lot and Too Short at our annual "Players' Ball". The rain stopped just long enough for a sunny Foxfield. Alumni weekend lived up to expectations. Unfortunately brother Hardy could not return to talk trash about the good ol' days and pass out by 7 o'clock. The second annual Rose Ball finished off the semester seeing another spring term firmly lodged under each of the brothers' belts.

The brothers of Rho are active in every aspect of W&L. Anthony Mazzarelli served as IFC president and All American soccer player Mikel Parker we elected an IFC Junior Justice. The soccer team is dominated by Rho and we also have brothers on the baseball, basketball, golf, track, and swim teams.

This year Pi Kappa Phi graduates 14 pillars of RHO. We wish the best of luck to David "CornDog" Corning, Robert "rats in a maze" McKinnon, Nick "Renzo" Renwick, Bill "Stick" Sigler, Anthony "Mazz" Mazzarelli, Shane "too hot to handle, too cold to hold" Atkinson, Eli "hide the women and children" Smith, Jay "Ingy" Ingram, Kevin "Old One-Onezer" Alexander, Derek "Zer" Larson, Ryan "Bag" McWilliams, and Craig "Wheels" Wheeler.

Sigma Chi

The !996-97 school year proved that Sigma Chi could adjust well to new Nazi Winter Rush rules. Led by our capable president Andy Daters who was an all-star on the soccer field as well as at Mayberry, Sigma Chi showed its social and academic eptness. The house says goodbye to three of its five-year seniors Chuck Carabello, Sam Frazier, and Pete Hammond who shined as captain of the successful W&L tennis team and as ODAC champion. Fortunately, Jason Barton will keep the five-year plan alive. Marc Santora will be departing shortly for Ajerbaijan where he will introduce the war-torn country to Blue Motorcycles and fine W&L style. Brian Greef bids farewell to all the girls he's loved before, from W&L and Rockbridge County and Disneyland transfers their lease to people who have parties. The Sigs were more popular at IFC meetings than SJC hearings but promise to shape-up under the watchful eye of the house's 75 dorm counselors. Will Elkins escapes to weekends at Winchester while Winston begins a new life in San Francisco, and we all wait anxiously for the return of Todd Guy.

Sigma Nu

The 1996-96 was another eventful and spectacular year for the Brothers of Lambda Chapter. When we returned to campus in the fall we poured our enthusiasm into rush. Our enthusiasm lasted for weeks...Unfortunately rush lasted for months. Yet, after four months and buckets of sweat, Rush Czar Tobias presented us with a quality pledge class. What they lacked in quantity they made up for in their creativity in making drinks, Stop-In dogs, and new dental hygiene techniques. Thanks for Brother Farrish we will never be able to look at a colostomy bag in the same way.

We kicked off the social year with our "annual" Mardi Gras and New Year's in September parties. Our Christmas weekend formal was enlivened by the antics of our "Super Bowl"Santa, Jon Hughes (sound of breaking glass). Our busy winter social schedule was capped off with FD and the pledge-active football game, which consisted of Brother Swensen running for his life. Once again in the spring, Shipwreck proved to be the largest party on campus with Right On and Agents of Good Roots attracting droves of people to 4 Henry Street. Often imitated, never duplicated.

It was another successful year on the playing fields for Sigma Nu, with varsity athletes on the cross country, track, and wrestling teams. Chad Casto was W&L's only wrestler to reach the NCAA Regional Wrestling Tournament, while Darrick Alford, Will Olson, Ben LaBrecque, and Brian Huse led the track and cross country teams to successful seasons.

We bid a fond farewell to this year's senior class (and one member of the class of '96). If we're lucky, maybe this class will be successful and give us some money. Good luck as you hop on Traveler and ride off into the sunset....

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Thanks to Rick's leadership and Gravey's absence, Sig Ep, inspired by O'Brien's enigmatic rally cry: Bitch done stole my cracker, won rush, putting together the largest pledge class on campus. Swenson's hose, Tuilova's water safety problems, McGlue's omniscience, Thompson's hair, and Carpenter's subscription to Cosmo make us proud.

The sophomores, aside from being in bed by 11:00 on weekends, held down the fort against streaking Phi Psi pledges. Coop chased Wadlow out of the House; Trevor won it for the South but then lost it in Bradshaw's drawer; Bestic and Graham never made it to the Moon Tower.

The juniors held on to the reigns for the third year. Graves pushed Dole off the podium, Ginnis became the newest "Chilli Dog", Schultz sought companionship at the elementary school, Miller was king...for a day, Dziok lost in the finals again, and Ely was the victim of the first international fetal ball by the "little man".

We will miss the seniors, especially Seide's limp, Hunter's pants, and Zeno's rocks. Good luck and thanks for all your work.

Chi Omega

This year proved to be another successful one for the sisters of the Xi Lambda chapter of Chi Omega. With Callie James and Jenn Justema as our fearless leaders, we were once again proved outstanding in many aspects of student life while still having our fair share of fun.

Chi Omega sisters were involved in many organizations on campus: dorm counselors, peer counselors, and LIFE members endured numerous training sessions so that they could be there when we needed them. Student Recruitment members provided guided tours for all, while our sisters in Kathekon made sure that alumni were able to comfortable and safely relive their college experiences. Some of our more intelligent members were inducted into rival Greek organizations such as Phi Beta Kappa and ODK. Several class officers and members of SJC were also Chi O's, as were participants in FOC, FD, Jubilee, Chamber Singers, Ducks Unlimited, and the Trident. Had Sasha played lacrosse again, we could have boasted participation in every women's varsity sport; despite this disappointment, we managed to be among the best represented Greek organizations in University Chorus. Our talents were also showcased in various theatrical performances, chocolate pudding wrestling, and artistic endeavors such as pumpkin carving at Halloween and our stellar Homecoming modeling; three Chi O's were featured in the new catalog available at the W&L bookstore. Always willing to help others, we sponsored the annual Making Strides walk for cancer and constructed houses for Habitat for Humanity.

Our proudest moment came in October when Natalia Garcia was crowned Homecoming Queen. Amy Jones followed suit in April when she gained the coveted title of Derby Days Queen.

Despite the many campus activities with which we were involved, we also managed to have a great time. With Kappa, we did "anything for money", and we showed our trashy side at Headbangers' with Theta. Our annual favorites, Persephone's Gala and White Carnation allowed us to boogie with our sisters; fraternity mixers, "grab-a-date" parties, and a "screw your sister" were also interspersed with our academic pursuits.

Although we are sad to say goodbye to our graduating seniors, a highly successful rush gave us 17 great new sisters whom we are confident will carry on the traditions and sisterhood of Chi Omega.

Kappa Delta

The greek community at Washington and Lee welcomed its newest sorority -- Zeta Tau chapter of Kappa Delta with open arms! We were overwhelmed by the offers to "mix" with everyone and were excited to meet y'all a little at a time.... Our first mixer, "Famous Lovers" with Kappa was a huge success -- due a large part to President and Mrs. Elrod who so graciously allowed us to use their pictures for our t-shirts. Then, we partied down with the sisters of Pi Beta Phi at "Beach Blanket Bingo" held at the infamous Zollman's during March. We heard it was a huge hit with the guys as the Baywatch babes were rumored to have made an unexpected appearance. We also grooved with the brothers of Kappa Alpha during Buffalo Creek, and barbecued with the strapping young bucks of Sigma Chi! Finally, our first year was capped off with our first formal with Theta at the pavilion. We had great times with y'all -- you kept our social chairs on their toes!

Our sisters were also active on the hill and beyond...we have sisters on 7 varsity sports, and Executive Committee representative, sisters in Jubilee, General Admission, University Scholars, and just about everything else! With all this talked, we were able to finish 3rd in our first ever Derby Days and hold our first annual Shamrock Project to benefit the Children's Hospital of Richmond (our National Philanthropy). The Alpha pledge class, although comprised of almost 60 girls, has become a family. We've come a long way in just six short months are looking forward to continuing our hard work and play in the fall.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

The Zeta Tau Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma had another exiting school year in 1996-97. The Kappas continue to shine in athletics, leadership, academics, and having fun under the leadership of President Anna O'Connor and the next President Carson Flowers.

Kappas can be seen everywhere on the hill and beyond. Kappas participated in lacrosse, tennis, track, cross-country, and soccer. Kappas also held many leadership positions in student groups such as the Executive Committee, the Student Judiciary Committee, Class Presidents and Vice-Presidents, SAB, Kathekon, Student Recruitment, Women in Leadership, Fancy Dress Committee, Dorm Counselor Staff, Theater, Jubilee, Freshman Orientation Committee, big sisters, small group leaders and more. Kappa was also excited to have several members initiated into ODK, Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma, and Alpha Epsilon Delta.

Kappa had good times this year too. We enjoyed many social events such as Fall Formal, tailgates, Famous Lovers, Monmouth, Kite and Key, Anything for Money -- Dark Side of the Moon, Supermixers, and the Spring Formal. Kappas also helped out in the community with pumpkin carving and making Valentines at the Mayflower, and food drives.

1997 Rush brought 19 super new pledges! These girls are sure to uphold the strength of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Good luck to the Seniors! You will be missed!

Things just keep getting better for the Virginia Theta chapter of Pi Beta Phi. No longer the new sorority on campus, chapter members spent the last half of 1996-97 acclimating to their new senior status.

With the addition of this year's pledges, Pi Phi again ranked first in grades on campus with a 3.319 placing them above the all student GPA for Winter term. The group also inducted members into ODK.

Senior Brooke Glenn led the lacrosse team as Co-Captain, and Bligh Wollner and Laura Cohen made their way through yet another year of swimming and tennis respectively. Jana set some records in cross country, while Nicole Richard oversaw our Adapt-A-School program.

But it is not all work and not play for the sisters of Pi Beta Phi. The chapter started off strong in 1996 with their annual "Nightcap" screw-your-sister date function at senior Tracy Marshall's house, in addition to their Beaux & Arrows formal and Homecoming and Parent's Weekend festivities. Winter and Spring terms were non-stop with a Beach Blanket Bingo party with KD, St. Patrick's Day with Sig Ep, Monmouth Duo with Kappa, Spring Fling with Theta, and a 70's mixer at Champz with Chi-O.

It was an unbelievable year for the sisters of Pi Phi - one no member will forget. Good luck to all the seniors...you'll be missed greatly.

Congratulations, Graduates!

Amy Meredy Jen Gambrill

Meredy-
Remember
the good friends,
the good times,
the Hot Nuts and
a bit of your education.

W&L will never be the same without you.

Shannon, Mom, & Dad
are very proud of you,
and we love you!

Your Task

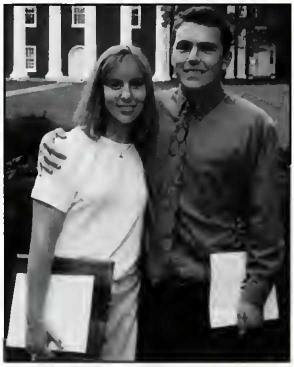
Your task, to build a better world, God said. I asked him how?
This world is such a large vast place, so complicated now,
And I so small and useless am, there's nothing I can do.
But God in all his wisdom said: Just build a better you.

Lance,
We're so proud of your accomplishments,
So thankful for your friends,
And so grateful for your memories!

We love you,
Dad, Mom, John, & Will

CONGRATULATIONS, MARK!

We are very proud of you!!!
Love,
Mom, Dad, David & Eric



Dear Sticky,

Thanks for everything- especially all of the rides in sunshine, rain and snow.

And, of course, thanks for being a great big brother and friend.

Congratulations and best wishes for the future.

Love, Karin

Brian,
Honor, tradition, commitment, and sacrifice-qualities that define your experience at Washington & Lee.
We applaud your efforts and your graduation with mixed feelings of joy, pride, and sadness.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Jim, and Alysen

JENNIFER NORWOOD

DEAR JENNIFER,

CONGRATULATIONS!
WE ARE VERY PROUD OF YOU. YOU ARE THE "LIGHT OF OUR LIVES." WE WISH YOU "SMOOTH SAILING" THROUGH A LIFE FILLED WITH LOVE, HAPPINESS, GOOD HEALTH AND SUCCESS.

WITH LOVE ALWAYS,
MOM AND DAD

To Julie,
Congratulations!

You are so special to us.
We are proud of
everything you do.
We love you very much.

Mom, Dad, Mark, Momsey,

HEATHER

Over the years, we have watched with pride
as you have grown to be the person you are today.
We anticipate the days ahead
as you grow into the adult you are meant to be.
The best is yet to be. . .

CONGRATULATIONS!!

With love and prayers,
Mom and Dad

Ben,
Congratulations!
We are so very proud of you and all of your accomplishments.

With all our love,
Mom, Dad,
and the Micro-man

Jessica Antonich

Jessica,

From Kindergarten through high school and now as you graduate from W&L, you have fulfilled my prophecy of you becoming a successful young woman and a beautiful human being. I have watched you make your dreams come true by sheer determination and hard work and with very little help from anyone. You have taught me the meaning of tenacity and optimism. I am privileged and proud to be your mother.

Mom

And a woman who held a babe against her bosom said, Speak to us of Children.
And he said:
Your children are not your children,
They come through you but not from you,
And though they are with you yet they belong not to you.
You may give them your love but not your thoughts,
For they have their own thoughts.
You may house their bodies but not their souls,
for their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.
You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you.
For life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday.
You are the bows from which your children
as living arrows are sent forth.
The archer sees the mark upon the path of the infinitive, and He bends you with His might that His arrows may go swift and far.
Let your bending in the archer's hand be for gladness;
For even as He loves the arrow that flies,
so He loves also the bow that is stable.

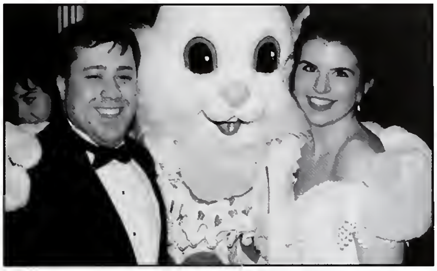
Congratulations, Darcey!



You are loved for the little girl you were-
The special woman you are now-
And the wonderful woman you will always be-

Congratulations
and
Continued Success!

Susie, "Q", Kiddo,

The years from your birth, from that beautiful moon lit evening 22 years ago until now, have rushed by so quickly. Your arrival was such a joyous event for us. We had so many hopes and plans for our sweet little Susie's future.

As the years have passed, you have far surpassed even our seemingly unrealistic dreams.

These past years contain countless wonderful memories. Watching you in wonder as you have developed into the fine young woman you are today.

You have filled our lives with love and pride. Your accomplishments are many and you have become a capable and compassionate young woman, ready to meet and overcome all challenges!

We pray that your future will be filled with happiness and success in all that you do. Never lose sight of the path home, we will always be there for you!

With love and pride,

Mom and Dad

To our pal, our rescuer, we wish you a life filled with tennis balls and dog cookies.

Love, Maggie and Eloise

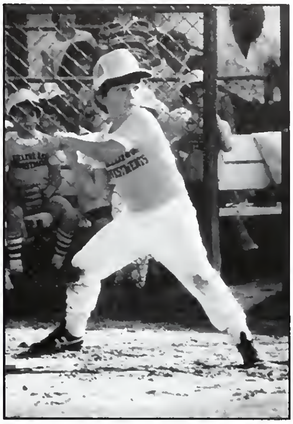
From your modeling career...

to your aquatic period...



to organized sports...

Then as a ... cheerleader (?)

You took the family to Hawaii...

at W&L you buried the post-Hollins hatchet...

and brought the Phi Delts to Mardi Gras.

PASTAMA
STO

People have been looking at our school yearbooks to help them remember for over 50 years. But our innovations have been progressing steadily forward for a century, since we invented the first class rings. In fact, Jostens is part of the whole school experience from start to end, even supplying students with graduation products. And when you're looking back to even your earliest school portraits that represent you at every stage of your life, well, we were there then, too.
